Kidney Week 2023
ASN Kidney Week remains the world’s largest meeting devoted to the latest advances in nephrology care, research, and education. Kidney Week 2023 will be held in-person November 1–5 (exhibit dates November 2–4) at the Pennsylvania Convention Center in Philadelphia, PA. All sessions will be recorded and made available on-demand after Kidney Week. All in-person participants who obtain a Kidney Week On-Demand access code from a supporting company’s booth will have complimentary access to the on-demand content.

Application Process
ASN will incorporate an application process for all Kidney Week promotional items included in the catalog. This application will become a contract upon the supporter’s authorized signature and ASN’s acceptance and countersignature. Please note, ASN accepts signatures from supporting companies only, not third-party representatives.

First Right of Refusal
Companies who supported the following items during Kidney Week 2022 have the first right of refusal on those items for Kidney Week 2023:
- Hotel Key Cards
- Mobile App Support
- Welcome Reception

All other promotional items in the catalog are first-come, first-served. ASN reserves the right to add items to the catalog at any time. All nomenclature, jargon, and titles for supported items are subject to change.

Cancellation Policy
Once the contract is signed by both parties, the support fee is binding and non-refundable. The support fee is still due to ASN if the supporter decides to cancel the contract after it is fully executed. In the event of cancellation of sponsorships due to fire, the elements, strikes, government, regulations, pandemic, or other causes beyond ASN’s control and determined at ASN’s discretion, ASN will not be held liable for failure to hold the meeting as scheduled, and ASN will determine the amount of the sponsorship fees to be refunded.

ASN closely monitors all situations globally and at any time may need to adjust the Kidney Week schedule, number of permitted participants, posted Health and Safety or any other policies, and/or cancel the in-person portion of the meeting. ASN is not liable of any cancellation fees or penalties your company/entity may incur as a result of changes to Kidney Week or full cancellation for any reason.
Artwork Requirements
Items that require the supporter to provide custom artwork must adhere to the artwork requirements below. These items are promotional in nature and not considered advertising. As such, they may not:

• Use comparative or qualitative language (e.g., item states that elixir X is the #1 sold elixir or elixir X is better than elixir Y),
• Be an endorsement (e.g., item states that elixir X is endorsed by someone),
• Include price information (e.g., item states that elixir X is cheaper than elixir Y, or it includes any pricing information on the product in general),
• Provide an incentive to purchase/sell/use a certain product or service (e.g., item states: buy 100ml of elixir X and get another 25ml for free).

ASN also requires each item have at least one reference to the supporter’s exhibit booth or Kidney Week 2023.

Rules and Regulations
ASN recognizes that promotional activities encourage a steady flow of traffic to the exhibit booths. It is imperative that exhibitors display professionalism and consideration for their fellow exhibitors; therefore, canvassing or distributing promotional materials outside the exhibitor’s rented booth space is not permitted. Exhibitors and supporters may not distribute literature in the convention center, hotels, or any public area without ASN’s written approval. In addition, companies may not coordinate promotional or educational items or events directly with the city, county, state, hotels, ASN vendors, or other contractors without ASN’s written approval. Noncompliance with these regulations can result in the loss of priority points by the exhibiting company, the inability to participate in the society’s Corporate Support Program, and/or the ability to exhibit or sponsor items at future meetings.

Accreditation Statement
In support of improving patient care, the American Society of Nephrology is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

ASN abides by all requirements of the ACCME Standards for Integrity and Independence in Accredited Continuing Education.

Ethical Codes of Conduct
ASN supports the ethical codes of conduct on interactions with health care professionals including, but not limited to, the Advanced Medical Technology Association (AdvaMed) Code of Ethics on Interaction with Health Care Professionals; the American Medical Association (AMA) Gifts to Physicians from Industry Ethical Opinion 8.06111; the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America (PhRMA) Code on Interactions with Healthcare Professionals; the Council for Medical Specialty Societies (CMSS) Code for Interactions with Companies; the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA); the Office of Inspector General Compliance Program Guidance for Pharmaceutical Manufacturers; and other ethical guidelines and expects all exhibitors at Kidney Week 2023 to be in compliance. All exhibiting companies, regardless of tax status, must demonstrate compliance to these and subsequent ethical codes.

ASN has signed the Council for Medical Specialty Societies (CMSS) Code for Interactions with Companies. Signing this document means that ASN has adopted the CMSS Code to ensure that the society’s interactions with companies will be for the benefit of patients and members and for the improvement of care in nephrology.

Meeting Code of Conduct
All supporters, exhibitors, and participants must agree to follow ASN’s Code of Conduct for all interactions related to Kidney Week 2023.

Health and Safety Policies
All participants must agree to follow ASN’s posted Health and Safety Policies or other policies that ASN posts. Changes to these policies can occur at any time and will be posted on the ASN website and included in exhibitor newsletters.

Additional ASN Opportunities

AKINow Support
Acute kidney injury (AKI) affects one in five hospitalized patients and is associated with poor short- and long-term clinical and patient-centered outcomes. Among those who survive to discharge, significant gaps in documentation, education, communication, and follow-up have been observed. The burden of AKI is reflected in high patient morbidity and mortality and the considerable financial burden to health care system.

In 2018, ASN established AKINow with a mission to promote excellence in the prevention, treatment, and recovery of AKI by building a foundational program that transforms the delivery of AKI care, reduces morbidity and mortality, and improves long-term outcomes.

AKINow priorities for 2023 include:
• creating a centralized, open access multi-omics database to accelerate translation of research findings to clinical practice;
• establishing a one-day translational research curriculum course for entry-level researchers, with an emphasis on recruiting students from underrepresented populations;
• developing an online journal club to promote discussion about current AKI-related topics;
• creating survivorship care plans to facilitate transition from the hospital to outpatient care for patients recovering from AKI.

To learn more about support opportunities associated with AKINow, contact Kara Page at kpage@asn-online.org.

Diabetic Kidney Disease Collaborative Support
Diabetes is the leading cause of kidney disease worldwide. The condition also accounts for more than 40% of kidney failure in the United States. With more than 100 million US adults living with diabetes or prediabetes, new treatments must be implemented urgently to stem the progression of diabetic kidney disease.

In anticipation of the development of new therapies for people with diabetic kidney disease, ASN launched the Diabetic Kidney Disease Collaborative (DKD-C) in 2019. The DKD-C works to increase coordination among primary care physicians, nephrologists, pharmacists, patients, cardiologists, and other specialists to deliver appropriate therapies to people living with diabetic kidney disease.

In fall 2022, the DKD-C Task Force released an online education module, “Management of Chronic Kidney Disease in People with Diabetes” on the ASN website. This module is intended to educate health care providers about the appropriate management of individuals with chronic kidney disease and diabetes. The DKD-C is now focused on adapting the module to become a patient-focused resource.

In addition, DKD-C is now developing a partnership with large health care systems to conduct a cost-effectiveness analysis of the economic impact of appropriate SGLT2 inhibitor treatment. The outcome of this analysis could lead to implementation of appropriate preventive strategies; improved outcomes for individuals with diabetes, cardiovascular, and kidney diseases; and decreased costs for health care systems and employers.

To learn more about support opportunities associated with the DKD-C, contact Kara Page at kpage@asn-online.org.
Diversity, Equity, And Inclusion Initiative
ASN Loan Mitigation Pilot Program

ASN is devoted to promoting diversity, equity, inclusion and justice to enhance the nephrology profession and the lives of the millions of people with kidney diseases through improved health care, research, and education. A diverse and inclusive ASN will foster innovation, creativity, and sensitivity to advance health for all people living with kidney diseases and serve as a model for organizations dedicated to health equity and justice.

The current nephrology workforce does not match the diversity of its patient population. Individuals underrepresented in medicine are out of proportion to the makeup of the US population despite the disproportionately higher adjusted prevalence of kidney failure in underserved populations and despite evidence suggesting improved patient satisfaction and outcomes with race-concordant patient-provider encounters.

Student debt represents a major barrier for trainees who want to become nephrologists. In 2019, the median debt for graduate medical school students was $200,000. The average four-year cost for public school students was $250,222. For private school students, the cost was $330,180.

Launched in 2021, the ASN Loan Mitigation Pilot Program is a five-year pilot program aimed to decrease the loan burden of those entering the field of nephrology, while also increasing interest in the specialty. The program focuses on individuals historically underrepresented in medicine. For the first two cohorts, “underrepresented in medicine” has been defined as those who self-identify as African American/Black, Hispanic/Latinx, American Indian/Alaskan Native, or Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islander.

ASN will select six candidates for Cohort 3 of the program, and each will receive $50,000 towards the repayment of eligible student loans over the course of three years. ASN also provides supplemental funding to cover the tax burden of receiving these funds. Eighteen recipients total will be awarded funding over the three cohorts of the program. The total budget for each cycle is $300,000, exclusive of the supplemental funding.

Six recipients per cohort at $50,000 each over three years:
- Cohort 1: July 1, 2022-June 30, 2025
- Cohort 2: July 1, 2023-June 30, 2026
- Cohort 3: July 1, 2024-June 30, 2027

The kidney community bears the responsibility of diversifying its workforce. ASN is seeking industry partners to help offset the financial burden of pursuing a career in nephrology.
